First worn by aristocratic women in the sixteenth century, corsets were commonplace by the mid-1800s. Paris claimed 10,000 corset-makers — most of them male — who sold more than a million corsets annually. The fashionable apparel accentuated the hips and waist — but some women could never have small enough waists.

Adventures In Tight Lacing - The Pitch

On January 2003, Hiliary Mariadubh nicSeamus posted a story on Crystal's StorySite. The Challenge really is not a story; it's a script outlining a game to be played and punishments that would be meted out when the heroine failed to accomplish the goals set for her. As Hiliary wrote the rules, the girl was placed in a 'no-win' situation and the game was just an excuse to punish her.
